ANNOUNCEMENTS

PUBLIC COMMENTS

Jessica Turcotte, 2674 Schletty Drive, stated she is adjacent to the Villas of Gervais Lake development. She passed out photos of her rear yard to show the large retaining wall and row of trees along the top of the wall. She stated that her property will be adjacent to three of the new lots. She is formally making the following requests:

- If the cul-de-sac design is accepted as currently proposed, she requests that on the side of the new street where the development touches the already existing Schletty Drive property, the rear yard setback variances should not be allowed, and instead, front yard setback variances should be considered. She stated that in her opinion, variances, when possible, should have the least amount of impact on the existing residences. She noted that the reduced front yard will only impact the new people who move into the cul-de-sac.
- The new grading plan indicates that no original mature trees will likely remain on the property post-construction, and the regrading will create a retaining wall approximately 10 feet high on the edge of her property. She pointed out in the photos that she has a row of mature oak trees at the top of her retaining wall and has been advised by experts that if the new retaining wall is constructed at the lot line, many or all of the existing trees may not survive since the new construction will go well into the dripline of the trees. She stated that the new construction may remove the trees on that exist on the property to be developed, but should not be allowed to ruin the mature trees that exist in her yard.

- The current plan will have multiple back-to-back retaining walls, so she is requesting that the engineers review to consider if this will create safety issues and if the structure integrity of the walls will be compromised. She stated she has a boulder wall and is very worried that if they are on top digging, this will cause her wall to collapse.
- The runoff plans do not account for the new homes to have additional impervious surfaces, such as decks and patios. She is requesting that this additional hard surface be factored into the modeling for the water runoff plans.
- Outlot A will not be owned by any one person, but will be mostly used for drainage purposes with retaining walls. She stated that it has been said that this development will likely require a homeowner's association, but it will have to pay to maintain retaining walls and other common structures. She asked if the walls are tagged, will they be required to remove the graffiti or paint the walls.

Ms. Turcotte stated that she wants to be a good neighbor, but she does not believe that this current plan is being a good neighbor to her.

Justin Parta, 2655 Edgerton Street, stated that he is adjacent to the proposed Villas of Gervais Lake development. He stated his top concerns are water flow, and noted that he has a very large Silver Maple tree in his backyard and wants to make sure that it is not damaged. He stated that the proposed cul-de-sac will meet his rear property line and wants to make sure that there is safety plan or barrier put in place to ensure that his yard is not impacted. He stated that he welcomes good development and hopes everyone can come to a consensus for what is right for the existing residents and city.

McGraw introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

RESOLUTION NO. 2022-8-97 – APPROVING THE CONSENT AGENDA WHICH CONTAINS THE FOLLOWING:

The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Miller.
